Message from the State Director

By Tom Wertman

Last year's biggest UFO event appeared to be the additional information coming out about the 2004 UFO encounter 100 miles off the coast of San Diego, Ca. The main story centered on the USS Princeton, a Ticonderoga-class guided missile cruiser tracking objects moving from 60,000 feet to sea level over a two week period. Two US Navy F/A18A fighters were directed to the area. While detecting nothing on radar, Commander David Favor observed and attempted to approve a Tic-Tac shaped object. The F/A18A was unable to turn with the object and it departed at a high rate of speed. Favor said I do not know what it was, but I wanted to fly one. Hopefully more will come out about the encounter.

Check the MUFON of Ohio websites for upcoming MUFON of Ohio meetings and library programs. This year I'm doing a limited number of library programs. The extra time will allow me to focus on individual research, networking with other researchers, and a new podcast.

UFOdyssey is the name of the podcast Paul Althouse and I will be hosting on Odusy1.com. Currently the show is prerecorded with a new episode each week on Thursday night at 8:00 pm. The new episode will replay twice that week along with the previous week's episode. Episode 1 featured the Pentagons admissions of running a secret program to gather information on UFOs. Episode 2 will be Salt Fork missing time. Episode 3 will feature an interview with researcher David Marler. Check out the website for shows info and schedule. The show will also be on iHeart radio under Odusy Radio.

I debated about doing a podcast for some time. What sold me on the idea were several factors: being able to reach out to a broader audience, I have control of the show content, and it's associated with Star Trek. I hope you tune in and enjoy.

The venue and other logistics of the 2019 conference have been wrapped up thanks to Bruce Budinger. It will be August 17th at the Quality Inn and Conference Center in Bellville, Ohio, which is the same site as last year. Please save the date! We have one speaker committed. That is Paola Harris. The potato bar for lunch will be repeated at extra cost. The details will be given in the next newsletter.

At the Board Meeting held in December we discussed money raising endeavors included running advertisements and selling things (mugs, glasses, placemats, coasters) Let us know if you have additional suggestions.

You will notice this issue has 20 pages rather than the usual 16. There were more than usual interesting articles available that I thought you would enjoy. You will finally read about our Ohio abduction event at Salt Fork State Park August 29-30, 2014. Tom Wertman was the chief investigator. Yours truly did the analysis of the experiencers' clothing and soil samples from the site.

We thank and appreciate Dr. Michael Swords' review of the new TV show "Project Blue Book". Thanks go to Paul Althouse for his cartoon, as always to Rick Hilberg for his Ohio Retro tidbits, also Ron McGlone for the status of UFO investigation in Ohio.

(Two articles follow indicating alien presence on the moon. If UFOs are flying all over the earth, it seems logical to assume they have bases on the moon. I have heard of Neil Armstrong's sighting for many years. Sightings of lights and structures on the moon also have been reported for a long time. I have personal information from a photo analyst who saw lights/structures on the moon that were not made by us. A number of websites report the following stories, two of which I have cited. Ed.)

A Presence on the Moon? - Moon Anomalies

(https://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/luna/luna\_moonanomalies02.htm)

Is there an "Alien Base" on the Moon? More and more people are coming forward with stories that might prove this is true. Rumors say that there is an Alien Moon Base on the far side of the moon, the side we never see from Earth.

Did you ever wonder why the Moon landings stopped and why we have not tried to build a Moon Base? It does seem like a better and easier idea than a floating space station with no access to any raw materials or supplies? According to the NASA Astronaut Neil Armstrong the aliens have a base on the Moon and told us in no uncertain terms to get off and stay off the Moon!

Sound far-fetched? Milton Cooper, a Naval Intelligence Officer tells us that not only does the Alien Moon Base exist but the U.S. Naval Intelligence Community refers to the Alien Moon Base as "Luna," that there is a huge mining operation going on there, and that is where the aliens keep their huge mother ships while the trips to Earth are made in smaller "flying saucers".

According to hitherto unconfirmed reports with calls to their offering no help, both Neil Armstrong and Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin saw UFOs shortly after their historic landing on the Moon in Apollo 11 on 21 July 1969. I remember hearing one of the astronauts refer to a "light" in or on a crater during the television transmission, followed by a request from mission control for further information. Nothing more was heard.

According to a former NASA employee Otto Binder, unnamed radio hams with their own VHF receiving facilities that bypassed NASA's broadcasting outlets picked up the following exchange:

NASA: What's there? Mission Control calling Apollo 11...

Apollo: These "Babies" are huge, Sir! Enormous! OH MY GOD! You wouldn't believe it! I'm telling you there are other spacecraft out there, lined up on the far side of the crater edge! They're on the Moon watching us!

In 1979, Maurice Chatelain, former chief of NASA Communications Systems confirmed that Armstrong had indeed reported seeing two UFOs on the rim of a crater. "The encounter was common knowledge in NASA," he revealed, "but nobody has talked about it until now."

Soviet scientists were allegedly the first to confirm the incident. "According to our information, the encounter was reported immediately after the landing of the module," said Dr. Vladimir Azhazha, a physicist and Professor of Mathematics at Moscow University. "Neil Armstrong relayed the message to Mission Control that two large, mysterious objects were watching them after having landed near the moon module. But his message was never heard by the public-because NASA censored it. "

According to another Soviet scientist, Dr. Aleksandr Kazantsev, Buzz Aldrin took color movie film of the UFOs from inside the module, and continued filming them after he and Armstrong went outside. Dr. Azhazha claims that the UFOs departed minutes after the astronauts came out on to the lunar surface.

Maurice Chatelain also confirmed that Apollo 11's radio transmissions were interrupted on several occasions in order to hide the news from the public. Before dismissing Chatelain's sensational claims, it is worth noting his impressive background in the aerospace industry and space program. His first job after moving from France was as an electronics engineer with Convair, specializing in telecommunications, telemetry, and radar. In 1959 he was in charge of an electromagnetic research group, developing new radar and telecommunications systems for Ryan. One of his eleven patents was an automatic flights to the Moon. Later, at North American Aviation, Chatelain was offered the job of designing and building the Apollo communications and data-processing systems.

Chatelain claims that "all Apollo and Gemini flights were followed, both at a distance and sometimes also quite closely, by space vehicles of extraterrestrial origin-flying saucers, or UFOs, if you want to call them by that name. Every time it occurred, the astronauts informed Mission Control, who then ordered absolute silence." He goes on to say:

"I think that Walter Schirra aboard Mercury 8 was the first of the astronauts to use the code name 'Santa Claus' to indicate the presence of flying saucers next to space capsules. However, his announcements were barely noticed by the general public.

It was a little different when James Lovell on board the Apollo 8 command module came out from behind the moon and said for everybody to hear:

'PLEASE BE INFORMED THAT THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS.'

Even though this happened on Christmas Day 1968, many people sensed a hidden meaning in those words."

Armstrong: Naturally-NASA was committed at that time, and couldn't risk panic on Earth. But it really was a quick scoop and back again.

Armstrong confirmed that the story was true but refused to go into further detail, beyond admitting that the CIA was behind the cover-up.

Cities Found on the Moon!

Reasonable activity of an alien civilization showed up unexpectedly close to us. We were not ready for it psychologically

We still can come across publications trying to find an answer to the question: Are we alone in the universe? At the same time, presence of reasonable creatures has been detected just close to our home, in the Moon. However, the discovery was immediately classified as secret, as it was so much incredible that even could shake the already existing social principles, reports Russia's newspaper "Vecherny Volgograd." (This is a Russian Translation which accounts for the awkward written paragraph. Ed.)

Here is an extract from the official press-release:

"NASA scientists and engineers participating in exploration of Mars and Moon reported results of their discoveries at a briefing at the Washington national press club on March 21, 1996. It was announced for the first time that man-caused structures and objects had been discovered on the Moon." The scientists spoke rather cautiously and evasively about the functioning objects, with the exception of UFO. They always mentioned the man-caused objects as possible, and pointed out the information was still under study, and official results would be published later.

It was mentioned at the briefing as well that the Soviet Union used to own some photo materials proving presence of reasonable activity on the Moon. And although it wasn't identified what kind of reasonable activity it was, thousands of photo-and video materials photographed from the Apollos and the Clementine space station demonstrated many parts on the lunar surface where the activity and its traces were perfectly evident. The video films and photos made by U.S. astronauts during the Apollo program were demonstrated at the briefing. And people were extremely surprised why the materials

Rumors persist. NASA may well be a civilian agency, but many of its programs are funded by the defense budget and most of the astronauts are subject to military security regulations. Apart from the fact that the National Security Agency screens all films and probably radio communications as well. We have the statements by Otto Binder, Dr. Garry Henderson and Maurice Chatelain that the astronauts were under strict orders not to discuss their sightings. And Gordon Cooper has testified to a United Nations committee that one of the astronauts actually witnessed a UFO on the ground. If there is no secrecy, why has this sighting not been made public?

A certain professor, who wished to remain anonymous, was engaged in a discussion with Neil Armstrong during a NASA symposium.

Professor: What REALLY happened out there with Apollo 11?

Armstrong: It was incredible, of course we had always known there was a possibility, the fact is, we were warned off! (by the Aliens). There was never any question then of a space station or a moon city.

Professor: How do you mean "warned off"?

Armstrong: I can't go into details, except to say that their ships were far superior to ours both in size and technology - Boy, were they big!... and menacing! No, there is no question of a space station.

Professor: But NASA had other missions after Apollo 11?

hadn't been presented to the public earlier. And NASA specialists answered: "It was difficult to forecast the reaction of people to the information that some creatures had been or still were on the Moon. Besides, there were some other reasons to it, which were beyond NASA."

Specialist for lunar artifacts Richard Hoagland says that NASA is still trying to veil photo materials before they are published in public catalogues and files, they do retouching or partially refocus them while copying. Some investigators, Hoagland is among them, suppose that an extraterrestrial race had used the Moon as a terminal station during their activity on the Earth. The suggestions are confirmed by the legends and myths invented by different nations of our planet.

Ruins of lunar cities stretched along many kilometers, huge transparent domes on massive basements, numerous tunnels and other constructions make scientists reconsider their opinions concerning the lunar problems. How the Moon appeared and principles of its revolving around the Earth still pose a great problem for scientists.

Some partially destroyed objects on the lunar surface can't be placed among natural geological formations, as they are of complex organization and geometrical structure. In the upper part of Rima Hadley, not far from the place where the Apollo-15 had landed, a construction surrounded with a tall D-shaped wall was discovered. As of now, different artifacts have been discovered in 44 regions.

The NASA Goddard Space Flight Center, the Houston Planetary Institute and specialists from the bank of space information are investigating the regions. Mysterious, terrace-shaped excavations of the rock have been discovered near the Tiho crater. The concentric hexahedral excavations and the tunnel entry at the terrace side can't be results of natural geological processes; instead, they look very much like open cast mines.

A transparent dome raised above the crater edge was discovered near the crater Copernicus. The dome is unusual as it is glowing white and blue from inside. A rather unusual object, which is unusual indeed even for the Moon, was discovered in the upper part of the Factory area. A disk of about 50 meters in diameter stands on a square basement surrounded with rhombi walls. In the picture, close to the rhombi, we can also see a dark round embrasure in the ground, which resembles an entry in an underground caponier. There is a regular rectangular area between Factory and the crater Copernicus which is 300 meters wide 400 meters long.

Apollo 10 astronauts made a unique picture (AS10-32-4822) of a one-mile long object called Castle, which is hanging at the height of 14 kilometers and casts a distinct shadow on the lunar surface. The object seems to be consisting of several cylindrical units and a large conjunctive unit. Internal porous structure of the Castle is clearly seen in one of the pictures, which makes an impression that some parts of the object are transparent.

As it turned out at the briefing where many NASA scientists were present, when Richard Hoagland had requested originals of the Castle pictures for the second time, no pictures were found there at all. They disappeared even from the list of pictures made by the Apollo 10 crew. Only intermediate pictures of the object were found in the archives, which unfortunately do not depict the internal structure of the object.

When Apollo-12 crew landed on the lunar surface, they saw that the landing was observed by a half-transparent pyramidal object. It was hanging just several meters above the lunar surface and shimmered with all rainbow colors against the black sky.

In 1969, when the film about astronauts traveling to the Sea of Storms was demonstrated (the astronauts saw the strange objects once again, which were later called "striped glasses"), NASA finally understood what consequences such kind of control could bring. Astronaut Mitchell answered the question about his feelings after a successful return the following: "My neck still aches as I had to constantly turn my head around because we felt we were not alone there. We had no choice but pray." Johnston, who worked at the Houston Space Center and studied photos and video materials done during the Apollo program, discussed the artifacts with Richard Hoagland and said, the NASA leadership was awfully annoyed with the great number of anomalous, to put it mildly, objects on the Moon. It was even said that piloted flights to the Moon could be banned in the programs network.

Investigators are especially interested in ancient structures resembling partially destroyed cities. The orbital shooting reveals an astonishingly regular geometry of square and rectangular constructions. They resemble our terrestrial cities seen from the height of 5-8 kilometers. A mission control specialist commented on the pictures: "Our guys observed ruins of the Lunar cities, transparent pyramids, domes and God knows what else, which are currently hidden deep inside the NASA safes, and felt like Robinson Crusoe when he suddenly came across prints of human bare feet on the sand of the desert island." What do geologists and scientists say after studying the pictures of lunar cities and other anomalous objects? They say, such objects can't be natural formations. "We should admit they are artificial, especially the domes and pyramids." Reasonable activity of an alien civilization showed up unexpectedly close to us. We were not ready for it psychologically, and some people hardly believe they are true even now.

October 24, 1963, Brook Park, Ohio

"October 24th was a beautiful warm night and I went outside in my backyard. Took my favorite chair with my binoculars around my neck, and sat just looking at the sky. I do this most frequently. I sat facing west. The moon was at half phase and about 25 degrees above the southwestern horizon. There were three small cirrus clouds near the moon. The sky was exceptionally clear, and the temperature was 69 degrees.

"At 9:40 EDST about 40 degrees due west a string of objects, blue-white and very dull, (could not have been seen if I wasn't looking right at it), in the formation of a large "J" in the sky about two inches at arm's length was noticed.

"They were heading directly overhead and easterly when I put the binoculars on them. They looked as if they were attached to something. The whole sighting lasted about four to six seconds, (timed later). As the string of lights passed stars it seemed as if there was a body to one object, because the stars would disappear. The binoculars did not reveal anything different than the unaided eye." -

Allan J. Manak, well known ufologist and at the time chair of the Cleveland Ufology Project.

(I sent an email to Michael Swords for his opinion of the new TV series "Project Blue Book" which was given much hype by the History Channel. Their description, "HISTORY's upcoming new drama series "Project Blue Book" is based on the true, top-secret investigations into Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs) and related phenomena conducted by the United States Air Force from 1952 to 1969." TRUE? You be the judge! This series revolves around Dr. J. Allen Hynek and his involvement in some well-known UFO cases. Michael personally knew Hynek, so I was very interested in his view of the series. He sent me quite an in-depth critique of the first three episodes. I thank him for the critique as well as giving me permission to share his comments with you. This missive has been slightly edited. Ed.)

The "Project Blue Book" TV Series A Critique

By Michael D. Swords, Ph.D.

Ok folks; I watched my DVD of this. I'm going to belabor you with information, figuring that you can always click off if it's too much. But first a few bottom lines:

1. This is pretty good television, but not much of a "Faction" piece. That is, if I had to give a percentage of accuracy it would be way under 10%.

2. Do I have a right to critique this? It's up to you to judge, but I knew Allen Hynek and Mimi Hynek personally (though not as well as some of my close research associates did), worked for Hynek's

Center for UFO Studies many years, and have, as I said, Ed Ruppelt's files, and have a personal file of the George Gorman "Fargo, ND Dogfight" that is over 100pp thick --- this was a very famous 1948 case.

Episode One (The Fuller Dogfight)

A. The TV show is loosely based on the Gorman case. What happened in that case is that Lt. George Gorman (here called "Fuller") was returning to land when confronted by an unknown (in his opinion) white sphere which was "round and somewhat flat". Its odd motions made him investigate, but he couldn't keep up with the thing's maneuverability. There were times of chasing the thing, times of being out-circled by the thing, and times when it seemed to Gorman to be just toying with him. Other witnesses existed to the "dogfight" (but only a straight line flight part) on the ground and in the field tower.

B. This incident occurred in 1948, and was investigated then. The opinion of the USAF at the time was that Gorman had his dogfight with a balloon. Some records of a balloon release were found, but that explanation was never really followed through with actual data on wind direction and launch observations, so the explanation was put into record as a guess as it seemed the simplest one. Gorman didn't believe it, nor did the others in the tower.

C. It was not Blue Book but its predecessor Project SIGN that investigated the case. Hynek was not involved even though he was just being hired out of Ohio State to do a paper work job of reading case files (not traveling to North Dakota) and evaluating them for possible Astronomical explanations. His report, the astronomy section of the Project's final report in 1949 (now called Project Grudge), suggested "no astronomical explanation" (his job) but also likely balloon close pass (not his job.)

D. When Captain Ruppelt took over the now named Project Blue Book (names changed when the task would go in and out of favor), he decided that the Gorman case was interesting, but, to my records, no new trip to North Dakota occurred, and certainly not with Hynek --- after finishing his paper study in 1949, Hynek went back to his astronomy job, until being hired by Ruppelt in early 1952 as a semi-permanent consultant. Ruppelt for some reason retained a true interest in the Gorman case, getting notary public testimony on record after he retired from Blue Book. This later testimony is dated 1955.

So.... now the "insider" stuff most of which is bogus: I'll just list this.

1. Gorman did not deliberately buzz a ball game, but did chase the object over it. He certainly didn't fire at it over US soil --- a court martial offense without high orders --- since he was National Guard I'm not sure that his plane was equipped to fire. Gorman did not spin out nor crash but landed safely and normally at the airfield. There was no collision.

2. The scene with the big wigs worrying about civilian emotions could represent something which might have occurred, as it has precisely the USAF and CIA concerns voiced by the so-called Robertson Panel of early 1953. Gorman's case however provided no role in that top secret meeting (of which we have the proceedings.) (Hynek attended.)

3. Ed Ruppelt (called Michael Quinn in the show) did not have pictures of aliens in his office. His "office" was a shared space in the ATIC HQ building on Wright-Pat AFB, and his desk was beside the one with intel officer keeping track of Soviet MIG reports.

4. The actor does look a bit like the young Allen Hynek. Allen and Mimi's son Paul would not have yet been born, let alone be polluting Dad's files with Flash Gordon comics.

5. Allen would not have resisted the USAFs offer of a paid consultancy for a second. That is how almost all young astronomers made ends meet.

6. Ruppelt didn't smoke. No idea why they did that -- maybe the actor needed a crutch.

7. Hynek's involvement with satellite tracking cameras didn't start until the later 1950s and the money came through Harvard, not OSU.

8. Project SIGN DID send officers to Fargo, ND in 1948 to test Gorman's plane for enhanced counts of radiation. They DID find enhanced readings, but nowhere near dangerous ones.

9. The Close Encounters of the Third Kind "communication by music" is (sadly) bogus.

10. Ruppelt more or less invented the term "unidentified flying object" not Allen.

11. Needless to say at this point, the entire episode in Dakota (Hynek's presence, test flight, second crash, Gorman sequestering and mental problems) is entirely fiction.

12. Allen driving back home following an MIB into an outwardly derelict facility where some musical and numerical codes are going on, is so far out of Allen's naturally Scaredy Cat personality that all of us who knew him would LOL immediately. Allen believed that UFO research was best done over a good meal with a glass of wine.

13. The idea of a blonde Soviet undercover spy would be quite "normal" for the era, though it never happened with either Mimi or Allen, and would be better timed to 1947-50 and around nuclear-related installations.

14. The black-and-white post-drama trailer was fairly accurate on the Gorman case, but even there the writers couldn't resist the invention of BS. The last phrase was saying that Gorman (never sequestered nor injected etc.) never spoke of his incident again, is utterly false. Dr. Jim McDonald interviewed him in 1970 for instance. Gorman did say that for several years following the incident he did not talk about it, as he had been told by his authorities that talking would be a court martial offense. That WAS true way back then due to a decree put out in those early years by Intelligence Director Charles Cabell. Gorman, by the way, retired peacefully as a Colonel.

..... so it is. Ain't art beautiful?

Episode 2 (The Flatwoods Monster)

I watched the second Project Blue Book program -- - OUCH!! Really bad. Hard to find anything related to the actual case.

Rather than reciting all the program's stupidities, I'll just briefly say what the case actually was:

1. A trail of light was seen. and a bunch of boys followed over a hill. There they saw something and one of them ran back to get Mrs. May, one of the boy's mother. She and a couple more kids came over quickly.

2. What they saw was a tall machine-like thing --- maybe ten foot maybe +/- 2. The thing had a dome top with two beams shooting out forwards --- at no time did the thing "look" at anyone. It seemed to glide down the hill toward another bigger light red glowing object. No clawed arms existed --- just a barrel body.

3. No one could tell, but the thing must have gone inside the larger object (and supposedly away.)

4. Investigations were made by two civilians separately (Gray Barker of Clarksburg, WV --- later became a joker, but this was his first field investigation and it was surprisingly well done.) (And the second by Ivan Sanderson, who also did a good field investigation --- I have his original files.) A third investigation was by the National Guard, of which we only have incomplete documents. There must have been a fourth investigation secretly, as Major Dewey Fournet of the Pentagon wrote an impatient document to some military test lab demanding that soil samples from the site be reported to him and compared with a second site which had roots apparently "microwaved" beneath the soil. This is quite interesting --- way more than the invented crap the TV program is pushing.

5. Flatwoods has never been explained, but gave the USAF no public problems since it was sensationalized enough that no one way back in 1952 believed it. Mrs. May and her son stayed firm and accurate with their stories for decades thereafter.

6. Hynek never had anything to do with this case.

Episode 3 (The Lubbock Lights)

That episode was so bad in terms of near character-assassination of famous people in the field, that it was next to disgusting to watch. But here's what really is documented from the USAF own files anyway:

A. The Lubbock Lights happened --- at least 7 times over about a week's run.

B. Plovers were suggested by a person here and there who didn't see them. Other experienced bird watchers said that although plovers DO migrate in roughly "V" flying patterns, they are nowhere near rigid and you can hear them at their relatively low altitude. It was not a Texas Tech professor who took the pictures nor suggested the bird idea originally.

C. One set of pictures was taken by a fellow named Carl Hart. The USAF took those (didn't keep them; I have good copies) but could not use them to identify anything.

D. Ed Ruppelt (Michael Quinn) DID investigate this. Allen Hynek was not employed.

E. Four Texas Tech science and engineering profs had a sighting and got interested. They were contacted by Blue Book both personally and via correspondence. They initially were quite excited and got into the press. They soon wished they hadn't and began backing off their interest, ultimately privately bailing out to Ruppelt saying that they'd solved the case --- it's reported in the literature that their private opinion was that it was "ducks" (ducks or plovers relatively the same idea -- the fact that the leader of these profs had the last name "Ducker" makes this doubly peculiar.) Their actual claim to Ruppelt, shown only in a marginal note by the good Captain in his files is that they really claimed it was "moths." An academic will do anything to run away from a forbidden subject.

F. Also hidden in Ruppelt's files is a communication from a different TT prof named R.S. Underwood, a math prof. Both he and his father-in-law were interested. They set up a deal where if one saw the things he would call the other who would immediately go out and look --- both noting time and direction. For once something good happened, and they connected. Underwood did the triangulation math, using he said conservative estimates. The triangulations gave an altitude from which the velocity could be estimated: 700mph --- pretty fast moths (or plovers.) He felt that his altitude was very good (a little over 2000 feet, but his speed calculation was harder. To him 700mph was the low answer. It continues to boggle me that Underwood's data are almost totally ignored in Lubbock discussions. I'll admit that I'm almost the only one who has read his letter to Ruppelt, but, hell, I've tried several times to get it out there.

G. Adding a BIG dollop of mystery to this is a separate document in the Blue Book records, which they conveniently refused to ever inform anyone about, about two witnesses who reported an unknown daylight flying wing type object on the same date as the major night-time Lubbock episode. Put lights on this thing and it looks exactly like Hart's pictures. Our famous Flying Wings were not flying then, by the way --- records on them are very good.

A couple of thumbs-downs on the episode: no such effects on cars have ever been noted --- lots of engine stoppages but not metal deformation. No witness has ever had remnant static electricity "in" them. Major Donald Keyhoe was a tough straight up guy who never paid anyone off for a story --- he worked for TRUE at the time and they may have offered money but not Keyhoe. Trying to intimidate him would have blown up big time (a personal friend was ex-CIA director Admiral Roscoe Hillenkoetter, and chief of USN weapons development Admiral Delmar Fahrney, plus Lindberg.) --- Ruppelt was happily married and no run-around.

That's enough --- the Lubbock Lights remain unidentified and look suspiciously like a huge flying wing machine. If they were ours, there are no records of whatever that project was --- available to us anyway.

Did Aliens Create The Human Race? Ancient Texts Say YES

(<http://www.ufointernationalproject.com/ufo-topics/did-aliens-create-the-human-race-ancient-texts-say-yes>)

Let's not deny the fact that nowadays there appears to be a rather strong finger-pointing towards the fact that Aliens could very well created the Human Race! Without meaning to offend ANY religion the Science behind our existence is proving that the missing link in Mans creation 'appears' to be unknown 'Alien Genes' found in our DNA BUT also, Ancient writings on the wall and images from past and even verses from the Bible 'appear' to show a connection with us 'the Human Race' and Alien Beings.....who knows perhaps there is a creator of all in the Universe!?

The REAL version of Adam & Eve!?

Even in other important ancient texts, like the Popol Vuh which is known as the sacred book of the Quiché, the great Maya family, the “powerful ones from the sky” created man.

Perhaps we were created to be slaves!?

Mayan Artifacts appearing to show some kind of 'Alien' presence!?

It is very clear that in many sacred age-old ancient texts, we can find stories reference the creation of mankind. Among the most important texts we have the Sumerian creation texts, which mention the creation of man and their creators, The Anunnaki – “Those who from heaven came to Earth.”

There are even several important Bible verses that refer to the creation of Adam and Eve, which a lot of people believe to be based on writings of Sumerian clay tablets that speak of “superior” beings which created the first human species. Genesis 1:26-27:

Then God said, “Let us make mankind in our image, in our likeness, so that they may rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky, over the livestock and all the wild animals, [a] and over all the creatures that move along the ground.”

So God created mankind in his own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them.

I'm sure the vulgar 'Islamic State' will not appreciate this thought very much, but even in the Qur'an, One night in the month of Ramadan, in the year 610 CE, Muhammad suddenly came up with a story that angel Gabriel appeared to him and gave him revelations from Allah. Gabriel ordered Muhammad to read in the name of your god as stated in the following verses:

- . Verse 96.1: “read in the name of god who created”;
- . Verse 96.2: “created man from a clinging substance”;
- . Verse 96.3: “read and your god, the most generous”;

- . Verse 96.4: “who taught by the pen”;
- . Verse 96.5: “Taught man what he did not knew”.

Could this visitor of been an Alien and the clinging substance some kind of Alien genetic creation for Mankind!?

Could it have been some kind of higher intelligence that created man!?

Even in Japanese creation myths and stories, it is believed by many that, in Ancient times, a heavenly couple descended from the heavens, breaded on Earth, leaving their children on Earth and forming the Japanese people.

This old Asian scroll from Japan depicts a Japanese merchant happening upon a small flying saucer that's landed near a rice field!

Much evidence is suggesting that all of these apparent religious links to Aliens is actually very much fact than FICTION! Back in 2002 with the discovery of the human genome, researchers indicated that humans have 223 genes that do not have predecessors in the genetic tree of evolution – Much evidence over the years have suggested that we were genetically created by Aliens, please read our article on this – Scientist Confirm: Aliens Created Our Species!

It very much appears that the important answer as to why only humans have had such an abrupt evolution from all the species on Earth, could possibly be answered by the mere number of ancient texts that speak of how life was created on Planet Earth. But the BIG question is Why do we ignore them?!? Because science does not agree with them OR because the world leaders do know want us to learn the TRUTH!?!?

Even Cambridge researchers say we acquired essential ‘foreign’ genes from microorganisms co-habiting their environment in ancient times.

U.I.P SUMMARY – The evidence is building up and the people are ‘waking up’ to the fact that we may have been created by Aliens! Scientists have even discovered what appears to be genetically modified seeds in the earth’s atmosphere suggesting these could have been made by Aliens to create LIFE on earth .

According to MANY other top leading researchers that are far more open-minded, it does not seem far-fetched that humans were created by an advanced extra-terrestrial civilization in the far distant past, possibly with the assistance of genetic engineering, something that could perhaps help to explain the 223 plus “alien genes” present in our very own DNA.

Many important leading figures in the world have suggested that Humans were created by Aliens! Francis Crick an English biochemist, who has actually won the Nobel prize, discovered in 1953 the DNA structure. He sustained that extra-terrestrial beings discovered our world in the distant past and decided to create “intelligent” life on the planet.

The increasing evidence about our existence on Planet Earth can NO LONGER be ignored.....does this mean that religion is no longer important though?! Well NO, but it is important for the free world to keep an open mind on this very important subject? YES!!

On July 4, 1979 at about 10:30 p.m. four persons, while watching a neighborhood fireworks display on Bancroft Road in Cleveland, observed a star-like object moving at an apparent rate faster than a normal aircraft.

The object was first noticed in the southwest portion of the sky, at an elevation of from 70 to 90 degrees. The UFO was moving swiftly toward the northeast, where it was lost from view after about one minute.

One of the witnesses, who observed the object through a pair of binoculars, stated that the object was Delta-shaped and metallic gold in color with a red "beacon" light in the center.

The witness further stated that through the binoculars the light was so bright that they had to put down the instrument, as their eyes began hurting.

Man Who Says He Was Abducted By Aliens Breaks 45-Year Silence

(<https://dfw.cbslocal.com/2019/01/16/man-who-says-he-was-abducted-by-aliens-breaks-45-year-silence/>)

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (CBS Local) — A Mississippi man in declining health is telling a story he's kept secret from his own family for 45 years: he claims he was abducted by aliens.

Calvin Parker says he and his buddy Charles Hickson were fishing in 1973 on the banks of the Pascagoula River, just north of where Ingalls Shipyard now sits, when a "real bright beam appeared all over us and it kind of blinded me for a second and when I got my vision back, I seen three bulky looking creatures coming toward us."

Parker said the creatures were "probably 4, 4 1/2, 5 feet tall...built like football players. But I noticed they kind of moved mechanical wise and they were floating off the ground. By the time we stood up and turned around, they were there on us all at one time," he told WALA in a rare interview. "Two of them got a hold of Charlie, one of them got a hold of myself and instantly I felt like, I just got relaxed."

Parker, who was 19 at the time, claims he and the 42-year-old Hickson were levitated into a space craft.

"There was an examination room, what I call it, and the ole big ugly creature that brought me in, he took me and laid me on the examination table and he just backed up out of the way. I couldn't move or anything. All I could do was look," Parker said.

A device about the size of a deck of cards then came down from the ceiling.

"It hovered about a foot in front of my eyes and then it went to the right side of my head and it clicked, went behind my head and it clicked went to the left side of my head and clicked and then straight to the front and then it shot back into the ceiling," he said.

Then a "more feminine looking creature came out. She looked completely different than what I called the robot," he said. She "had regular fingers and came over and pinched me on the side of the cheek and then she took her finger and ran it down my throat and got it behind that thing that hangs down back there and tried to come up in my nasal cavity and that is when it started hurting and I started choking and I got scared and she just kind of telepathically told me ‘Don’t be afraid we aren’t going to hurt you.’”

Calvin Parker’s book “Pascagoula – The Closest Encounter: My Story.”

Parker said the aliens then dropped him and Hickson on the river bank. They called the Jackson County Sheriff’s Office to report the incident.

Former Jackson County Captain Glenn Ryder said he told the men to come in to the station. To test their sincerity, Ryder said deputies secretly placed a tape recorder into an interrogation room and left the two alone.

“I got to get home, get to bed or get some nerve pills or something, see the doctor or something. I can’t stand it. I’m about to go all to pieces,” Parker was recorded saying at the time.

“I tell you, when we get through, I’ll get you something to settle you down so you can get some damn sleep,” Hick son responded.

“Something happened to them, said Ryder. “You don’t fake fear. He was scared. He was scared out of his mind.”

The men would also take lie detector tests and pass. The story quickly went viral.

“It was a circus, a media circus,” former WALA-TV reporter Rennie Brabner said.

Brabner believes something happened that night.

“I do not think they made it up in the sense that they created it out of whole cloth,” Brabner said. “I have been told, particularly Hickson was known to take a drink. Was it in the bottom of a bottle of a John Barleycorn bottle? I don’t know.”

Hickson wrote a book on his encounter and spoke numerous times about it before he died in 2011.

Parker stayed out of the limelight for 45 years, but after suffering a stroke and having two open heart surgeries, he decided it was his turn to write a book about the night that changed his life” was published in July.

“You can’t really pin everything down. You don’t really know and that’s the point I’m holding out. I don’t know what happened, I know something happened,” Parker said.

The Salt Fork Abductions (By Tom Wertman and Phyllis Budinger)

On August 29-30, 2014 two men were on a fishing/camping trip at an Ohio state park (Salt Fork, Cambridge, Ohio). The older man (43) was accompanied by a young man (19) who was his daughter’s boyfriend. The older man is a construction worker who owns his own business. They were camped by the lake shore with chairs about two feet from the water, and would routinely stoke the fire every hour. There was no one else in the vicinity.

Late in the evening the two men saw a light low in the sky. It moved back and forth to tree top level. About 1:30 a.m. they heard a shrill ‘woman-sounding’ voice. It should be noted that many stories of ‘high strangeness’ abound (bigfoot, hauntings, UFOs) at Salt Fork.<sup>1</sup> There is a cave in the park with a waterfall where a girl supposedly died. The men became increasing nervous. After

1:30 a.m. the older man's wife and daughter could not contact them. The men have no recollection of what happened for three hours. They became 'aware' at 5:19 a.m. in the morning. The fire was out. The men grabbed their belongings, returned to the pickup truck and changed clothes out of their fishing clothes. As the older man changed clothes he noticed his shirt was inside out! They also noticed markings on their bodies. One witness found that he had marks over an estimated 40% of his body. It should be noted that no alcohol was in their cooler, only water.

Following is a Google map of the site. The craft was suspected to have landed somewhere in the open area to the right of the tree. Tom interviewed the men and visited the site.

He submitted the clothing worn by the fishermen to me to determine whether there was anything anomalous related to the abduction. The clothing from the older man included: cargo shorts, zippered sweatshirt, belt, hat, underwear. The younger man's clothing included: cargo shorts, red and black striped polo shirt (outside layer), navy blue long sleeve polo shirt (middle layer) white sleeveless shirt (inside layer – undershirt), underwear, belt, socks. The complete analytical report on the clothing analysis can be found on the Black Vault website. (<http://www.theblackvault.com/casefiles/analyses-of-two-experencers-clothing-worn-during-an-abduction-salt-fork-state-park-ohio>.)

The clothing was first examined for any visual stains and spots, and then for any areas which fluoresce under UV light. All spots, stains and UV fluorescing areas found on the clothing were analyzed. Only the cargo shorts and sweatshirt of the older man, i.e. outer clothing, was examined because the other apparel did not have any stains/UV fluorescing material. The same was essentially true of the young man's clothing. Only the cargo shorts, both polo shirts, and sleeveless shirt contained stains worth analysis. Following are photographs of the clothing examined.

Older Man's Clothes

Cargo Shorts

UV Fluorescing Stains on the Cargo Shorts

Zippered Sweatshirt

UV Fluorescing Stains on Sweatshirt Sleeve

Younger Man's Clothes

Cargo Shorts

Sleeveless Undershirt

Stripped Polo Shirt

Navy Polo Shirt

It should be noted that these clothes were exposed to the environmental conditions encountered on the fishing trip. They were not new and were exposed to other contaminants encountered wherever they were worn. For example, the older man did contract work and wore the zippered sweatshirt for that. Laundry soap and fabric softener residues are also a possibility. This analyst understood that finding something anomalous would be like looking for the proverbial “needle-in-a-haystack”. But certainly the attempt was worth a shot.

There were two objectives of this project. The first was to identify any stains and spots left on various pieces of clothing for anomalies which may be related to the abduction. The second was to compare these results to two other analyses done by this laboratory. One was done on the dress Betty Hill wore during her abduction<sup>2</sup> and the other done on an experimenter's tee shirt worn during an abduction in Winnipeg, Canada<sup>3</sup>. Other assorted characteristics were also compared. There are two detailed tables in the formal analytical report. An abbreviated table follows.

COMPARISON OF SALT FORK EXPERIENCERS' CLOTHING TO THOSE FROM TWO OTHER EXPERIENCERS
(BETTY HILL AND WINNIPEG CANADA MAN)

Experiencer	Clothing History	Location of Analyzed Anomalous Stains	Analysis	Location of Long Chain Carboxylic Acid Salt
Betty Hill (Dress)	Fiber is cellulose acetate. It was a new dress, worn once before and never laundered. It was stored in closet for 40 years before analysis. Handled by many people over the years.	Predominantly the outside of the dress.	Mildew-like residue predominates in the stain areas. Common dust components and pet hair are found. Known DNA consisting of human, a soil bacteria.(alpha proteobacterium), spider and possible mouse. There is a long chain carboxylic acid salt .	Front mid-section of dress skirt. (Source:unknown)
Canadian Man (Tee-shirt)	Fiber is cotton. It has been worn and laundered. The experiencer sleeps in it.	Both outside and inside the shirt.	Predominating are respiratory products (perspiration). Also present is a long chain carboxylic acid salt and traces of common mundane contaminants such as a small oil stain and probable food crumb.	Both underarms and outside, inside back and inside front. (Source: underarms possible hygiene product ; Inside back and front: unknown)
Salt Fork Older Man (Cargo Shorts)	Fiber is cotton. The shorts are old and well-worn.	All outside of the shorts.	Dirt components, dead grass remains and a protein-type amide. Also present are long chain carboxylic acid salts which may be zinc stearate and calcium stearate.	Upper front left and lower front right. (Source: unknown)
Salt Fork Older Man (Zippered Jacket)	Fiber is polyester. It is old well-worn.	All outside of the sweatshirt.	Dirt components, paint components and a protein-type amide are present. There are long chain carboxylic acid salts which may be zinc stearate and calcium stearate.	Right and left sleeves at wrists. (Source: possible hygiene product i.e. soap)
Salt Fork Younger Man (Cargo Shorts)	Fiber is cotton. The shorts is old and well-worn	All outside of the shorts.	There is a protein-type amide and a long chain carboxylic acid salt which is similar to zinc stearate.	Front right pocket and back right pocket. (Source: unknown)
Salt Fork Younger Man (Stripped Polo Shirt)	Fiber is a cotton/polyester blend. Shirt is worn.	All outside of the shirt.	Paint components only are detected.	-
Salt For Younger Man (Navy Polo Shirt)	Fiber is cotton. Shirt is worn.	Limited number of spots stains with only one on the inside of the shirt.	There are dirt components and a protein-type amide thought to be skin flakes.	-
Salt For Younger Man (White Sleeveless Shirt - Undershirt)	Fiber is polyester. Undershirt is well worn and highly stained.	Highly stained both inside and outside.	There are dirt components and perspiration components. Also detected is a trace amount poly(dimethylsiloxane) which is a very common contaminant.	-

The comparison indicates possible component types which appear on clothing from all three experiencers. These are long chain carboxylic acid salts, one of which may specifically be zinc stearate. So this is flagged as a component to look for in future analysis of clothing from experiencers. Is this the “needle-in-a-haystack”?

Long chain carboxylic acid salts are very ordinary materials, and were not thought to be anomalous in previous analyses. These types of compounds have a plethora of uses. Some are used in bar soap and stick deodorant in personal hygiene products. While there is a probability some may originate from these products, not all are believed to be from these sources. Some of these components were found on clothing areas where there is low probability of originating from a hygiene source.

It is also interesting that, for the most part, the carboxylic acid salts were found in UV fluorescing areas of the clothing. Many experiencers are reported to have UV fluorescing stains on their person or clothing.<sup>4</sup> It should be noted that something does not have to be exotic or of unknown composition to be of alien origin.

Tom also collected four soil samples. I have examined them, and the results of the analysis are in the process of being written up. Following is a Google map of the landing site, and it shows where the samples were taken. Past analysis of soils from UFO landing sites suggest that the soils have slightly higher magnetite (iron oxide mineral) than the surrounding soil. It is speculated that the UFO propulsion system acts as a magnet, which drags the magnetite up to the surface. In that case, my iron measurements suggest a UFO has not only landed, but also indicates the location it had set down. This is shown on the map.

Ohio MUFON UFO Investigation Status By Ron McGlone Chief Field Investigator

Ohio continues to receive its fair share of UFO reports with already 16 reports in January. Typically we average around 200-250 a year and we currently have 34 under investigation at this time. Of the 34 cases, 22 of those are current sightings with the disc type most popular followed by strange lights, and 6 reports of triangle shaped crafts. Also reported are 3 abduction cases from the past.

I'd also like to welcome Kevin Wakefield as a new Field Investigator for Ohio. Kevin was an investigator to Oregon MUFON and will make a great addition to our team. Although Michael Moore has moved out of state, he continues to help out along the southern areas in Ohio. For those interested in becoming a Field Investigator, information can be found on the mufon.com site under the "Research" tab.

Another interesting article on the MUFON site is the "Project Match" program. It is a joint effort with the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena (NICAP), in an effort to correlate alerts regarding detection of electromagnetic / geomagnetic anomalies using what's called MADAR along with actual sighting reports, to ultimately provide an early warning system to state directors and other researchers. The Project is also seeking volunteers for additional MADAR sites. These devices cost around $200 and you'll need an internet connection to participate.

Secret Pentagon projects reveal gov't looked into UFOs, wormholes and other bizarre anomalies By Chris Ciaccia | Fox News

<https://www.foxnews.com/science/secret-pentagon-projects-reveal-govt-looked-into-ufos-wormholes-and-other-bizarre-anomalies>

Newly declassified documents from the Pentagon reveal the Department of Defense funded projects that investigated UFOs, wormholes, alternate dimensions and a host of other subjects that are often the topics of conspiracy theorists.

The Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) released 38 research titles on Jan. 18, following a Freedom of Information Act request from Steven Aftergood, director of the Federation of American Scientists' Project on Government Secrecy. The research was funded by the Department of Defense under its Advanced Aerospace Threat Identification Program (AATIP).

Some of the more interesting projects include Invisibility Cloaking; Traversable Wormholes, Stargates, and Negative Energy; Warp Drive, Dark Energy, and the Manipulation of Extra Dimensions; and An Introduction to the Statistical Drake Equation.

"The DOD and the DIA have previously sought to spin AATIP as being a program looking at 'foreign advanced aerospace weapon threats', but the attachment to the DIA's letter to Congress is difficult to reconcile with this, given that the 'products produced' under the AATIP contract are listed as including reference papers on topics which seem more concerned with space travel," Nick Pope, a former employee at the British Government's Ministry of Defense, said in comments obtained by Fox News.

Pope continued: "The smoking gun is the paper about the Drake Equation, which is used to estimate the number of civilizations in the universe. This supports the suggestion that AATIP was indeed a UFO program, as has been claimed, and not an aviation program looking at aircraft, drones and missiles."

The Drake Equation is a seven-term equation that attempts to look at the different variables that would be relevant for intelligent life forms. This includes factors such as formed stars and their planets, the average number of planets that can potentially support life. Other factors include a fraction of those planets that can develop life and a fraction of these civilizations that have become intelligent.

Some of the projects give details such as who was working on them – Dr. Eric Davis of EarthTech International participated in the wormhole project, for instance – but others are left with scant details.

The project entitled "Metallic Glasses" says Dr. Todd Hufnagel from Johns Hopkins University worked on the research, but it could mean anything.

"I think anyone who looks at these titles will scratch their heads and wonder what on earth the Defense Intelligence Agency was thinking," Aftergood said in an interview with MotherBoard. "These are the kinds of topics you pursue when you have more money than you know what to do with."

On the night of November 22, 1957, a close sighting took place in Ohio. Mrs. Richard Goff, who lives near Tiro, Ohio, told The Tiro World how she and her brother had witnessed an object that "looked something like a bedpan with eight or ten bright lights shining from the front edge." As it came near them, it looked much the same as a bank of field lights at a baseball game, according to the witnesses who were driving in a car at the time.

Said Mrs. Goff: "At this point another car came over the hill behind us, from the north, with bright headlights on, and the object began to back away. It then changed appearance and took on a more circular shape, together with an orange-red color. It swung back and forth and up and down for a long time as it backed away. We watched it for at least fifteen minutes."

Nasa admits 'tiny super-intelligent' aliens may have ALREADY visited Earth – and says some UFO sightings 'cannot be explained or denied'

By Sean Keach, Digital Technology and Science Editor

3rd December 2018, 11:52 am

Updated: 4th December 2018, 7:31 am

<https://www.thesun.co.uk/tech/7885699/nasa-aliens-alien-life-ufo-sightings>

(Slightly edited for clarity. Ed.)

A top Nasa scientist said the space agency needs to be "more aggressive" in the hunt for alien life

A NASA scientist admits that it's entirely possible aliens have already visited Earth – and we simply never noticed.

The space expert also noted that not all UFO sightings can be "explained or denied", and said scientists should be more open-minded about the possibility of alien visitors.

Nasa has long been investing in SETI, the "search for extraterrestrial intelligence" – better known as aliens.

And in a recently published paper on SETI, Professor Silvano P. Colombano suggested that alien life may have already visited us.

He suggested that aliens could look so different from how we expect, and that they may be able to travel huge distances – because we simply can't comprehend their make-up or technology.

"I simply want to point out the fact that the intelligence we might find and that might choose to find us (if it hasn't already) might not be at all be produced by carbon based organisms like us," said Professor Colombano, of Nasa's Ames Research Centre in California.

Nasa's Professor Colombano also suggested that some UFO sightings "cannot be explained or denied"

"How might that change the above assumptions about interstellar travel? Our typical life-spans would no longer be a limitation (although even these could be dealt with multi-generational missions or suspended animation), and the size of the 'explorer' might be that of an extremely tiny super-intelligent entity."

According to Professor Colombano, scientists are too preoccupied with modern human technology.

This, he says, makes it difficult for us to imagine technology that could have been produced by aliens living on planets older than Earth.

He said "we need to re-visit even our most cherished assumptions", including that "interstellar travel is impossible or highly unlikely".

"Considering further that technological development in our civilisation started only about 10,000 years ago and has seen the rise of scientific methodologies only in the past 500 years, we can surmise that we might have a real problem in predicting technological evolution even for the next thousand years, let alone 6 million times that amount," the professor explained.

He added: "Even if the speed of light continues to be an unbreakable barrier, over spans of thousands of years civilisations could probably make interstellar journeys."

NASA's first spacecraft InSight designed to delve deep into a distant world is on course to land on Mars after six-month voyage

In his paper, titled New Assumptions to Guide SETI Research, Professor Colombano said that recent discoveries of Earth-like planets by the Kepler space telescope offered hope.

He said this should prompt Nasa to "focus our attention on detecting signs of life and technology in specific planetary systems".

"I feel we need to become more flexible in our assumptions," he explained.

"The reason is that, while it is still reasonable and conservative to assume that life is most likely to have originated in conditions similar to ours, the vast time differences in potential evolutions render the likelihood of 'matching' technologies very slim."

Professor Colombano is advocating a more "aggressive approach" to the search for alien life.

He also said scientists shouldn't rule out possible "signals" of alien life, thanks to their own doubtful prejudices.

"In the very large amount of 'noise' in UFO reporting there may be 'signals' however small, that indicate some phenomena that cannot be explained or denied," the professor wrote.

"If we adopt a new set of assumptions about what forms of higher intelligence and technology we might find, some of those phenomena might fit specific hypotheses, and we could start some serious enquiry."

Announcing a New Book by Irena Scott!

SACRED CORRIDORS: SECRETS BEHIND THE REAL PROJECT BLUE BOOK, WRIGHT-PATTERSON AFB, ROSWELL, BATTELLE, MEMORY METAL, DR. J. ALLEN HYNEK & UFO COVER-UPS

A new book just released by our own Dr. Irena Scott is receiving all kinds of accolades. Your editor has not read it yet, so I have taken the liberty of publishing a book review which nicely sums up its content from the following web site. (<https://strangertimes.net/book-reviews/book-review-of-sacred-corridors-secrets-behind-the-real-project-blue-book/>)

“This is the third in a series of three interconnected books from Irene McCammon PhD and all released by Flying Disk Press and a welcome offering it is. This time Dr. McCammon tells of her visits to Wright Patterson Air Force Base and how she was able to visit (and photograph) sensitive areas not normally accessible by the public.

The title, i.e. ‘Sacred Corridors’, refers to the locations she visited in her search for the truth about the UFO phenomenon. The book itself, which is impeccably referenced and contains over 50 pages of pictures and images of original letters by Dr. Allen Hynek, is a textbook example of dogged determination in tracking down real information about the likelihood of a concerted cover-up at the highest levels of government by the US authorities.

The chapters include information on such fascinating subjects as the semi-legendary Hanger 18, where UFO debris was stored, the existence up secret underground vaults, another look at Project Bluebook, and best of all, a close look at Dr. J. Allen Hynek and what he really thought about Project Bluebook, the iconic operation he was tasked with overseeing. It is perhaps telling that the more he saw, the more he realized that this was real.

Also fascinating are the insights into the exotic metallic alloys that were allegedly found at the various crash sites, particularly the ‘memory metal’ found at the Roswell crash site and also how serious research into the subject of UFOs was actively discouraged and derailed by the CIA and any useful information either trashed or discredited. One has to ask why? Who Gains...or indeed loses? Hopefully Dr. McCammon will continue to keep digging and writing, because the truth does need to be told, great stuff; buy it and learn.
